Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,9,16,17,18,19,20,21,28,29,30,31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Immel (5,435,084).

Immel discloses an assembly having all of applicant's claimed structure including a resilient pin retainer 41 and a pin 39 for operatively locking a wear member to a support structure as shown in figure 5. Concerning claim 19, lip 77 is considered the retaining means. Given the structure of Immel, the claimed method steps would be inherently performed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2,3,14,22-27 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7/14/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments regarding obviousness and a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are not persuasive since an obviousness rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) has not been made.

In response to applicant's argument that the pin retainer of Immel has a different function than applicant's pin retainer, it is noted that, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).
